

License Terms – Gas Detection App

Subject of the License

The right to install and use the Gas Detection App (the “App”) is subject to the terms of this End User License Agreement (EULA). This EULA is made between the person installing the App on a device (the “User”) and Drägerwerk AG & Co KGaA, Moislinger Allee 53-55, 23542 Luebeck, Germany. The terms of this EULA are supplementary to the "Licensed Application End User License Agreement" for products from the iTunes Store (available at <http://www.apple.com/legal/internet-services/itunes/>).

The source code of the App is not part of the license. These License Terms only bind Dräger and the User. Based on the use of the App or based on these License Terms, no claims against other companies, especially Apple Inc., and its affiliated companies may be invoked. In case of conflict the iTunes Store Terms and Conditions prevail over these License Terms. Apple Inc. and its affiliates are third party beneficiaries of the License Terms and have the right to enforce the License Terms against the User.

Terms of Use

Dräger grants the User a simple, non-transferable right to use the App to use. In case Dräger provides to the User additions or a new version of the App, the use of the amended or updated App this is subject to the provisions of these License Terms. Dräger is entitled to withdraw the App from iTunes and to cancel the right to Use the App for technical or other reasons. The user is not entitled to claim for a refund or compensation based on the withdrawal or the cancellation.

The user is not authorized to make any modification, extension or other alteration of the App. The only exception is if the law explicitly allows such interventions (eg, § 69e German Copyright Act). The user is entitled to decompile the App only within the limits of § 69e German Copyright Act, and only then, if Dräger has not provided upon written request with reasonable notice, the necessary data or information available to achieve interoperability with other software and hardware.

IP Rights

All rights to the App and media or information contained therein are owned by Dräger or Dräger affiliated companies. Dräger reserves all rights, including copyright, competition and trademark claims arising from the unauthorized use of the App or parts thereof as well as trademarks of Dräger.

Export Control

The User represents and warrants that (i) he/she is not located in a country that is subject to a U.S. Government, UNO or EU embargo, or that has been designated by the U.S. Government as a “terrorist supporting” country; and (ii) he/she is not listed on any U.S. Government, UNO or EU list of prohibited or restricted parties.

Warranty and Liability

The App and the contents of the App were created by Dräger to the best of its knowledge and belief and based on the existing knowledge at time of publication. The App is provided in the present condition. Any other properties of the App are not owed by Dräger. Likewise, further obligations cannot be derived from other representations of the App in public statements by Dräger or in advertising, unless Dräger has specifically confirmed these properties in writing to the User.

Dräger assumes no liability for the completeness and accuracy of information, recommendations and other content contained in this App. All recommendations and other contents are for information and advertising purposes only and are not binding; unless Dräger has expressly agreed with the User otherwise or Dräger evidently want to vouch for the completeness or correctness of content.

Internet Use

If the User of the App is lead to content outside of the App, especially websites, the following provisions apply. The User must ensure that the applications used by him for the use of the website are free of viruses. The use of the Internet due to the public access and the possibility of influencing the content by unauthorized third parties is inseparably linked with risks that the User recognizes and accepts by using the Internet. Dräger is not liable for damages that result from the realization of these risks when using the Internet or any linked website, unless Dräger has contributed actively to the risk and its realization. In particular, Dräger is not liable for business interruption, loss of programs or other data in the information system of the User.

Miscellaneous

Notwithstanding longer statutory mandatory limitation periods, the limitation period for all claims is one year and begins with the installation of the App.

Jurisdiction for all disputes arising from this contract is Hamburg, Germany or at the option of Dräger, the competent court for the User. German law applies to the exclusion of the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods.
