

Mutual Non-Disclosure Agreement

enter into any further agreement or conclude any transaction with the other in connection with the Authorized Purpose or otherwise. Subject to compliance with its obligations under this Agreement, neither party shall be precluded from (i) independently developing any products, services, or technologies or (ii) pursuing business opportunities with third parties.

This Agreement may be executed by one or more of the parties by electronic or original signature on any number of separate counterparts via physical delivery or electronic transmission in non-modifiable format, and all such signatures shall be deemed effective. Said counterparts taken together shall be deemed to constitute one and the same instrument.
